Howard W. Lutnick, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of BGC, stated, "This transaction reflects the deep and unwavering commitment of BGC -- the fastest growing, and one of the world's largest, global brokerage companies serving the financial markets -- to build a premier position in real estate services. We agreed to acquire Grubb & Ellis because we believe Newmark Knight Frank's and Grubb & Ellis' broad knowledge and extensive brokerage expertise, combined with BGC's powerful proprietary technology and our strong financial backing, will enable Grubb & Ellis to thrive and grow as part of the BGC family of companies."

Thomas P. D'Arcy, President and Chief Executive Officer of Grubb & Ellis, commented, "We believe this transaction enhances our value proposition to our clients and strengthens our position in the commercial real estate marketplace. BGC's strong capital base, robust technology and deep commitment to its brokers provides Grubb & Ellis with scale along with the resources needed by our professionals to deliver exceptional service to our clients. We are confident this will be a seamless transition for our clients and that becoming part of BGC is an extremely attractive opportunity for our brokerage professionals and employees."

Michael Lehrman, Global Head of Real Estate at BGC, said, "Our expanding position in the real estate marketplace, reflecting BGC's strategy to grow our real estate business, is creating new capabilities for talented real estate professionals as we extend relationships with top-tier corporations and financial institutions, and introduce innovative tools to broaden the services our brokers offer to clients."

Barry M. Gosin, Chief Executive Officer of Newmark Knight Frank, said, "The synergies between Newmark Knight Frank's consultative approach to creating value for clients and Grubb & Ellis' transactional and management services are tremendous. Joining the passion for excellence in the services each company provides to clients with the capital strength and unequalled technology of the BGC real estate platform represents a superior value proposition and competitive advantage in the real estate marketplace."

James D. Kuhn, President of Newmark Knight Frank, added, "Our proven high-touch, relationship-driven business model has been dramatically strengthened upon becoming part of BGC. We firmly believe the brokers, employees and clients of Grubb & Ellis would find the same opportunities to grow as part of the BGC family. This would be an exciting new day in the evolution of the outstanding BGC real estate enterprise."

To facilitate this transaction under the Section 363 sale process of the United States Bankruptcy Code, BGC has acquired the outstanding secured debt of Grubb & Ellis and has committed to provide, or will have an affiliate provide, Grubb & Ellis with "debtor-in-possession" ("DIP") financing to support Grubb & Ellis throughout this process.
